

I am commenting as a citizen. I urge the FCC not to implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law protections, or weaken the new Massachusetts initiative. My mother is age 88 and lives semi-independently in Indiana. She is confused by telemarketing, and receives many calls each week. She calls me for advice, and I have to tell her "just ignore them". Because her short-term memory is poor, these calls are invasive to her quality of life. I only found out about the Indiana law recently, but I expect it to be a huge help.
